FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

John R. Gentry will serve 10 mares before he is put in training.

J. E. Bruce bought of Dudders Bros. 9 yearlings at $27.50.

W. M. Lackey bought of Silas Anderson 14 850-pound cattle at 3½¢.

Thirty-nine head prime 1,064 lb. cattle brought $6.15 at Chicago last week.

The Kentucky Futurity for two-year-olds, worth $25,000 will be trotted at Lexington, Oct. 8.

Versailles dealers were offering yesterday, 57 cents for wheat, $2.25 for corn and $5 for hemp.—Sun.

Mrs. J. M. Lear sold to a West Virginia man the black jack, "King of Glenwater," for $500.—Paris News.

W. A. Tribble has decided to again let Ball Bros. of Woodford, handle his great show mare, Kate Malloy.

B. K. Weareen has bought of J. B. Paxton 2,400 bales of timothy hay at 50 cents per 100 pounds delivered.

Horsemen think that Beuzetta, 2:19½, the Futurity winner, ought to go in 2:05 this year. Gus Macey has her again.

The nine million mark has been passed in marketing the cotton crop, which is over 2,000,000 bales greater than the last season.

G. & C. P. Cecil sold to W. P. Hardy, of Selma, Ala., the two-year-old colt Cecilius, full brother to Cecilian, 2:19½, for $1,500.—Advocate.

California has a splendid orange crop this year, and abundant rains through the winter season insures grand fruit crops of all kinds.

Budd Dobie says that he believes that either Ballona, 2:11½; Prince Herschel, 2:13, or Edard, 2:09½, will some day reach the two-minute mark.

April is the best month to apply manure to the orchard, as the growth of the trees starts then, and the feeding roots are ready for the food within their reach.

Samuel Dudders, of the Gilberts Creek section, has two ewes that have had seven lambs this year. Five of them are living and they are all fat and healthy.

Norfolk, Va., is the largest horse market in the South. This business has been established and developed in the last few years. Last year it amounted to $1,000,000.

Next Monday will be horse show day here. Come to this office and equip yourself with advertising matter to properly introduce your entry. You can do so at minimum cost.

The Mt. Vernon Eagle says that Rev. ten Williams, of Stanford, bought the 29½ acres of land near Conway sold by Judge W. E. Varnon as administrator of Mrs. Bibb for $401. As it lies along the railroad, it would seem that Mr. Williams has a bargain.

Wanted, 100,000 pounds of wool. Highest market price guaranteed. Before you sell, see my agents T. S. Elkin, Lancaster, J. S. Moberly, McKinney, Wm. Rout, Hustonville, Wallace Steele, Rolling Fork or myself at Stanford. William Moreland.

Neff & Co. shipped 6,000 dozen eggs this week for which they paid 7½¢. Hon. John D. Harris sold nine hogsheads of tobacco in Louisville at $15 to $17.50. R. A. Cosby sold 100 barrels of corn at $2 and 40 nice feeding hogs at $3.—Richmond Register.

D. J. Curry & Rue sold to Jake Patterson, of Jessamine county, six mules at $80. Messrs. Curry & Rue paid $83 per head for these animals and had them fed in the stable since November 1. The same firm also sold to Bob Scott, of Williamson, a pair of 16-hand mules at $140 and one four-year-old at $42.50.—Harrington Democrat.

To buy the turnpikes and make them free," said a wealthy farmer and heavy tax-payer, "would bankrupt the county and soon give us back the old mud roads. There was a time when the county could well have bought the turnpikes, and it would have been a paying investment. That was many years ago when the stock was cheap. Why, I remember when the stock of the pike between Danville and Stanford could be bought for $3 per share. In fact I bought 80 shares of it at that price. The road had run down and was in poor condition. Since then, however the pike has been built up and the stock is worth something like a decent price." The gentleman closed by saying that he believed in the old principle of the dancer paying the fiddler.—Danville Advocate.

The Easter egg is in Germany a National institution, an inheritance from the heathen Teutons, sanctioned by Martin Luther, who pronounced the egg "an emblem of the rising up out of the grave of our Lord Jesus Christ. In the same manner as the chick, entombed, as it were, in the egg, is in due time brought to life, so did our Lord arise from the grave to give us life," said the great reformer.

There are five pelcat farms in the United States that yield 20,000 marketable skins every year. It may be added however, that all the skunks in the country are not confined to these farms.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - - APRIL 2, 1895

W. P. WALTON.

The coal operators in the western part of the State have adopted resolutions against the proposed prosecution of the L. & N. in Marion county for giving Louisville lower rates than Lebanon, because they believe it will be disastrous to them and their employes, reduce the output, decrease the value of coal property and stop the continuous run of the mines. At the first glance at the matter it would seem a decided hardship for people along the line to pay as much, and sometimes more, per car load for freight on coal than is charged to Louisville, but when it is considered that only the excess of what is marketed between the mines and the city is hauled there and perhaps held for months to be sold, it is not so bad after all. If the mines were to be cut off to the supply along the railroad, they would not run a week in a month. At Louisville the coal comes in competition with that brought down the river at a nominal cost and some concessions have to be made or our Eastern Kentucky mines would become profitless and be abandoned. Railroad companies should be forced to give the lowest possible rates consistent with their expenses, but there are many things to be considered in the alleged discrimination against local consumers.

As a general rule it is not the part of discretion to charge a Virginian with falsehood. He doesn't do like the people on the other side of the Ohio, say "You're another," and think that wipes out the insult, but he usually demands an apology or his accuser's hide. The other day while they were in a suit at Indianapolis, Hon. John S. Wise, son of the governor of Virginia, who signed John Brown's death warrant, and who was a man of undivided courage, made a statement which Russell Harrison, son of the ex-president, characterized as false. When court adjourned Harrison left the room. Wise followed. In a few minutes Harrison hurriedly returned and demanded the protection of the court. Then Wise came in. "I only asked for an apology," he said, "and Harrison replied by running in here and demanding protection." Judge Woods quieted matters by a conciliatory appeal and young Harrison escaped the drubbing he deserved. He'll know better in the future than to fool with a Wise. It is worse than monkeying with a buzzsaw.

Two of the meanest feeling creatures that ever lived met in the Union depot at Cincinnati, last week. They had corresponded in answer to an advertisement in the Enquirer and finally arranged for a meeting in the Queen City. They were to recognize each other by red bows on the breasts, but as it turned out the bows were not necessary for the recognition. It was mutual and immediate. They were brother and sister and each wanted the earth to open and swallow them, when they saw the denouement. It is of course much better for the young woman that the matter ended as it did, as she was spared the danger of falling into the hands of a designing scoundrel, though the woman, who would answer such an advertisement is not much to be pitied no matter what the result.

EDITOR BLAKELY, of the Covington Commonwealth, takes things as they come with a charming nonchalance, though ready to turn an honest penny out of any and every sensation. In the face of the fact that he is threatened with death and annihilation by a Newport man, who has procured a gun to do the job, he calmly suggests that now is the time to subscribe, knowing that if he will not be on deck to write it up somebody else's pen will tell in the Commonwealth how he fought, bled and died for the country and the cause he loved.

We can't get a fight out of Spain this time. She has her hands full trying to keep her unruly subjects in Cuba in line. A great many people hoped she wouldn't apologize for her man-of-war firing at a U. S. ship, so we could whip her and capture Cuba, but that hope is gone for the present, the more's the pity.

We thank Editor Richardson, of the Glasgow Times, for a nicely turned compliment, which our modesty forbids us to reproduce. We are moved, however, to remark that for saying the nicest things in the cleverest way, our good brother is comme il faut, as we Frenchmen say.

The Owensboro Messenger asks us how does Gov. McCreary stand on the currency question? We haven't heard him say, but he is for sound money, we have every reason to believe—a bimetallist, but not for a free and unlimited coinage of silver.

COL. R. M. KELLY, editor of the Louisville Commercial, is a candidate for State Commander of the G. A. R. and if his admirers of the State press could vote, he would be chosen by acclamation.

MR. AND MRS. CLEVELAND have moved to their summer home at Woodley and the gossips are saying that we will hear news from there soon.

The postmaster at Laurenceville, Grant county, is a blooming idiot. One of the patrons of his store owed him $4, which he could not induce him to pay. The other day a registered letter came to the fellow, which the postmaster deliberately opened and took the amount of his debt from it. He has been arrested and a long term in the penitentiary awaits him. This new way to collect old debts will never become popular. There is too much risk connected with it.

Those who claim that there is no further legislation necessary to secure free turnpikes are mistaken in the reading of the law passed by the last Legislature. It does not admit of a levy greater than 10 cents on the dollar for that purpose and that amount wouldn't be a drop in the bucket in this county. Four thousand dollars would not buy many miles of pike in a county that has 147 miles.

It is stated almost with the positive assurance of a fact, that the U. S. supreme court by a vote of 5 to 3 Chief Justice Fuller with the minority, will declare the income tax law unconstitutional. The only drawback to such a decision is that it would cause a called session of Congress to devise means for the raising of the amount of revenue it would lose off, and for that reason alone it might be regretted.

"The last April fool trick I played," said the old settler, "was when I was a boy in school. I'd put a bent pin in the teacher's chair, and, do you know, he made me sit in that chair before he'd try it himself. Consequence was I got the pin, and it didn't strike me as being a funny joke after all."—Harper's Bazaar.

JESSE TRAYLOR, of Hindaboro, Ill., is here visiting relatives.

EDITOR A. R. DYKE, of London, passed through to Liberty Sunday.

MRS. J. W. HAYDEN has returned from Cincinnati, fully restored to health.

MRS. HOLMES and Miss Alice Holmes are attending a meeting at Bryantsville.

MISS CASSIE CONKWRIGHT, of Winchester, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Jane Barrow.

MISS OCTAVIA SIZEMORE left Saturday to visit her brother, R. B. Sizemore, at Clinton, Tenn.

MRS. LENA LACKBY, of Stanford, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Mattie Duncan, Lancaster Record.

JUDGE J. W. ALCORN accompanied his daughter, Miss Katie, back to the seminary at Oxford, O.

MRS. J. L. YANTIS, of Garrard, is visiting her old home and many friends here.—Somerset Reporter.

ELD. JOE SEVERANCE, JR., came over from Lexington via Shakertown, 52 miles, on his wheel in 4 hours.

MRS. W. O. BRADLEY and daughter, Miss Christine, returned to Lancaster Saturday from a visit to Louisville.

MISS JENNIE WARREN left yesterday for Atlanta to visit her aunt, Mrs. Dr. Ekin.

FANK CORDIER, the Rowland photographer, has rented out his establishment and will rest from picture taking awhile.

MISS MAMIE MOORE, of Louisville, has returned to the position she filled so nicely in Mrs. Kate Dudderar's millinery last season.

MRS. C. W. KREMER, of Louisville, who has been very ill, came up Saturday, and is now with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Harris.

MR. T. C. YEAGER spent a few days with friends here. He had just returned from Indianapolis where his sister, Miss Etta, was married to a Missouri gentleman.

DR. J. F. PAYTON went up to Pine Hill Saturday, where he assisted Drs. J. J. & E. J. Brown in cutting off Mr. Parker's arm to the shoulder. The operation was necessitated by necrosis.

COL. JOSHUA DYE tells us he spent last week with his friend Hon. Fontaine Fox Bobbitt and that he enjoyed a feast of reason and a flow of soul such as can only be enjoyed by par nobile fratum.

MISS LAURA JARBO, of Lebanon, returned with Miss Lizzie Besley from a visit to the cities to purchase her millinery stock, and will be with her again this season, the ladies will be glad to know.

STANFORD people are making a raid on Liberty this week. Messrs. W. P. Tate, R. C. Warren, A. J. Earp, Robert Fenzel and E. C. Walton are already there and P. M. McRoberts, J. S. Owlesy, Jr. and W. A. Tribble will follow in a day or two.

THE Advocate says that Judge C. E. Kincaid has resigned his position in the revenue department to re-enter journalism. When he was Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times he made his dispatches the liveliest and breeziest ever sent out from the capital.

THE current issue of the Illustrated Kentuckian contains a good picture of Editor Clarence E. Woods, of the Richmond Register, and an interesting article by him on the Sigma Nu Fraternity of which he is grand recorder. The same paper has a clever little story by Mrs. J. I. McKinney and a pretty likeness of her.

THE Lancaster Record thus speaks of our ubiquitous representative: It would not look like county court day without the familiar figure of Ed Walton, of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, mingling with the crowd. He can come nearer being all over town at the same time than anyone we ever saw. He'll do to draw to.

SOMERSBURY has organized a base ball club and christened it "The Q & C."

SEVERAL Spring banquets were exhibited in church Sunday, which took the attention of the other ladies from the services.

CAPT. SMITH FORMAN, of the K. C., and his brakeman, A. H. Myer, had a fist-cuff Saturday and now Mr. Myer is looking for a job.

FOR RENT.—House, garden, all necessary outbuildings and three acres of grass land near toll gate on the Danville Pike. A. D. Root, Stanford.

THE Young Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church will serve another excellent dinner court day at 25c. Make a note of it and patronize them.

THE News says a gum factory is to be started at Middlesboro. We presume the idea is to give the people something to chew, if they haven't got anything to swallow.

FOR SALE.—To wind up partnership, 26 shares stock Odd Fellows Hall Association, paying 15 per cent dividends, available semi-annually. Apply to J. N. Menefee or A. C. Sine.

LADIES remember our perfection shoes in Oxfords; Pickadilles, Common Sense, &c., &c., and you gentlemen ought not to forget our Cordovans and tan shoes in all cuts and widths. Hughes & Tate.

LADIES, keep an eye on my Ziegler shoe; they are the most stylish, the most comfortable, the most durable and the cheapest. Also remember that I have the largest stock of shoes in Stanford. W. H. Shanks.

"HANG out the banners on the outside wall, the cry is still they come." Messrs. T. J. Foster and A. A. McKinney have joined the blessed army of those who are making their houses beautiful with pain and alabastine.

We want 100,000 pounds of wool, 10,000 pounds of bacon sides and hams, 1,000 pounds of feathers and 1,000 dozen eggs in exchange for dry goods, clothing, boots, shoes and hats, at the lowest cash price. Hughes & Tate.

THE dwelling of James Jones, on Green river, burned Friday, together with most of its contents. His barn containing 25 barrels of corn and a lot of other feed was also consumed. The house caught from sparks from knob fires close by.

MESSES. W. D. WEATHERFORD and W. B. Wright, of Hustonville, have posted notices stating that they will apply for renewal of their whisky licenses Monday, county court day. P. W. Green will also apply for license for his bar-room at McKinney.

THE Dudderar Mill and other property, advertised to be sold to pay a debt due the Farmers Bank & Trust Co., will not be put up at auction. Mr. J. A. Dudderar has bought it of W. M. Dudderar for $6,000 and will satisfy the claims against it.

A mob of 30 or 40 determined men, with ropes already tied for their necks, scoured the knobs the other night for the supposed murderers of old man Apt, Petrey and Durham, but unfortunately they were not caught. Judge Lynch is about the only judge, who could properly dispose of such a case.

THE more we hear about the result of the attempted train robbery on the Cincinnati Southern, the better the news gets. The fourth robber was found dead near the scene with his body riddled with bullets. He has been identified as John Underwood. All honor to Mayor Griffin and his fearless escort!

MRS. W. S. MARTIN, of the O. & N. branch, has been appointed superintendent of this division of the L. & N., to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Supt. Pike. He is a young man and the fact that he has risen rapidly shows that he is made of the right kind of stuff.

Daniel Breck, roadmaster of the Short Line, is promoted to Mr. Martin's old position.

"I THINK the woman's edition of the Courier-Journal is a fraud and a delusion," said a pretty young lady to us. "I got exceedingly interested in an article on the reason 'Trilby' was written, to find after perusing three or four columns that it was an advertisement of the Royal Baking Powder. I never was so mad in my life." And the way her bright eyes flashed was proof that she hadn't gotten over it yet.

THE social given in the basement of the Presbyterian church Friday night for the benefit of its missionary was decidedly pleasant, and considering the small price charged, quite a profitable affair. The menu consisted of coffee, sandwiches, cheese, ices, cake, pickles, &c., and all was served by pretty little waiters for 25 cents. The amount realized was $33.60, all of which is net as everything was contributed.

CUT FLOWERS.—Leave your order for Easter flowers with "The Young Ladies Exchange."

THE latest local fad is a four-in-hand which can be found at Shanks'.

DIED.—Will Porter, the man who shot himself at McKinney, died Thursday night in great agony.

BEGINNING with next issue we will increase the size of this paper to six pages every Friday, until further notice.

MRS. SUSAN HARRIS has opened a dress-making establishment at Mr. Peter Straub's and invites the ladies to patronize her.

FOR RENT.—Ali or any number of rooms in Craig house on West Main street. For particulars, enquire of Dr. Steele Bailey.

If you want good, strong, home-made harness, the place to go is M. S. & J. W. Baughman's. They will sell you the best at the lowest prices.

THE Paragon says that Jerry Morrow and the gang concerned in the attempted train robbery, were not Pulaskians, but lived across the line in Wayne county.

THE prices of bicycles are just about half what they were a year ago and most anybody can now afford one. Wearen & Co. are selling them very rapidly.

MRS. LUCILLE BEAZLEY has returned from the cities and is now opening up a line of millinery that is bound to please the most fastidious. See her before you buy your Easter hat.

FARRIS & HARDIN are contemplating a change in business July 1st, and until then they will offer everything in their line at cost for cash. See their notice elsewhere in this paper.

FISHING parties to Dix River at Duddera's Mill return with any number of new lights and say they bite with charming readiness. We heard of 64 being taken by a small party Friday.

CAL. WELCH, the negro who stole a horse from Dr. W. N. Bush, of Garrard, several weeks ago and rode him to Somerset, was tried there and given two years in the penitentiary. Welch is also indicted for the offense in Garrard.

SINCE everybody got sanctified there and nothing happens to help Editor Dains fill up his paper, he is forced to publish ancient history. The item about the sale of the Opera House there for $5,000 was three or four years old and perhaps a lie when it was originally published.

AT Lancaster a new trial was refused Henry Reddick, convicted for life for murder in firing the Miller House and burning its inmates. Horace Woods for killing James Martin had the good luck to get a hung jury. Eleven were for two to 21 years, and one lone but opinionated individual stuck out for acquittal.

MR. A. C. ALFORD got one of Yeager & Cooper's fiery steeds Sunday and went to see his sweetheart. On his return he got out to open a gate and left the horse to stand while he went back to shut it. The animal didn't stand, of course, but ran off and broke the buggy into kindling wood, leaving Mr. Alford to walk home and pay for his bad luck.

BIG STORE.—Messrs. J. L. Frohman and Sol Frankel, of the "Globe" Clothing House, Danville, J. L. Frohman & Co., proprietors, were here Friday and engaged the space given on this page for one year. They are successors to the Lyons Bros., and are going to open and run a strictly first-class, high grade clothing establishment. Their ad. will tell when their opening will occur and then you can get clothing cheaper than you ever heard of it selling.

COINING MONEY.—Misses Dollie Roberts, Fannie Shanks and Clara Morrison were salesladies at the Ladies' Exchange Saturday and took in $15. The society has been in existence less than a month and already has about $100 in the treasury, which shows what willing hands can do when they try. The Christian church is to be frescoed and beautified internally in every way and the ladies are going to contribute their full quota to the expense. They will spread another dinner court day, Monday, even on a more extensive scale than before.

THE deal between Messrs. Louis Landram and H. R. Cartwright and Mr. Jas. R. Marr for the purchase of the Lancaster Record, notice of which was made in our paper of Tuesday last, was consummated Saturday, the gentlemen getting it for $2,000. Mr. Marr's health necessitated the step, but it is hoped that a cessation of the worry of business will soon set him all right again and return him to the profession he adorns. The new editors are capable and wide awake young men and we hope they will succeed beyond their most sanguine expectations.

THE young people who are rehearsing Louva, the Pauper, for rendition at Walton's Opera House on the 16th, are progressing finely and those who have attended the rehearsals say that a good performance is assured. The following is the cast of characters: Louva, the Pauper, Miss Ethyl Beazley; Aggie Farnham, Miss Georgia Wray; Mrs. Craft, Miss Mary Bruce; Gipsy Crone, Miss Lizzie Menefee; Aunt Charity, Sam W. Menefee; Dick Langley, Ben H. Danks; Will Spriggs, Geo. B. Wearen; Col. Farnham, Jack Beazley; Sol Craft, James Beazley; Bob Craft, Jesse M. Alverson; Mr. Withgill, Logan Hughes; Peleg Pucker, Manley W. Tyree; Crankey, Ernest Warren, Tony, James H. Burton.

THE only objection we have to Mr. Louis Landram's acquisition to the editorial tripod is that it knocks us out of one of our very best correspondents. We want a Lancaster scribe now almost as bad as a fellow wants a pistol in Texas. Don't everybody apply at once.

MARCH went out like Mary's little lamb in gentleness, and like Summer in mildness. Friday and Saturday were the warmest days ever recorded in March, that is of which there is any account, the mercury reaching nearly to 90. It was very warm all over the country, except in Colorado, where one of the worst blizzards of the season prevailed, sending the mercury nearly to zero. Yesterday a much needed rain came to wet the ground, which had become almost too hard to plow. The hills and dales are beginning to be clothed in verdure and buds and leaves are bursting forth as if spring had come in real earnest.

"FAIR Tuesday, much cooler."

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Rev. E. O. Guerrant has just closed a two weeks' revival at Winston, N. C., during which 106 persons professed conversion.—Woodford Sun.

—Miss Addie Hodges, of Winchester, who used to visit Mrs. C. H. Paine, here, when she was Miss Lucy Tate, will be married this week to Mr. Joseph Martin.

—Lansing, Mich., has a matrimonial club whose members at intervals choose one of their number whose duty it is to get married within a year. And he always does it.

—The attention of wives is called to a decision of a learned New York judge in a case before him. He said: "The wife should obey the reasonable demands of the husband. Under the old English law the husband's authority was supreme, and he had the right to chastise his wife. The law is changed now, but still the husband's reasonable demands must be obeyed."

COMMANDS A STEAMER.

Mrs. Blanche S. Leathers Understands Mississippi Navigation.

Mrs. Blanche S. Leathers, who has lately been granted a master's license, is the first woman to assume command of a steamer of such importance as the Natchez, which runs between New Orleans and Vicksburg. Captain French, the only other woman who holds a captain's license on the Mississippi, commands a show boat that stops here and there along the river for a night's performance.

Ever since Mrs. Leathers was married, 14 years ago, her home has been on the great river, first on the Laura Lee and afterward on the Natchez. While the latter was being built she accompanied her husband to the dock-yard regularly until she knew every inch of the craft from pilothouse to keel. She knows every twist and turn and every landing of the river, and being an economical helpmeet proposed that she turn her knowledge to practical account. Her husband, Captain Bowling S. Leathers, during his enforced absences from his boat was obliged to engage a temporary captain in order to cover the law governing steamboats. Mrs. Leathers accordingly applied for and after passing a brilliant examination obtained a master's license. She has charge of the domestic affairs of the steamer, doing all necessary shopping, looking after the linen and attending to the servants. It is quite apparent that the feminine captain looks upon the masculine one as her superior officer, for it is only in her husband's absence that the full responsibility falls upon the young and handsome wife, who looks the domestic woman to perfection, seen in her pretty rooms on the boiler deck. These are arranged with all the necessities and comforts with which a cultured, home loving woman would naturally surround herself. Broad plate glass windows, shaded by pretty draperies, pictures, books, a piano and dainty bits of needlework, testify to the luxuriant tastes of the occupants.

Mrs. Leathers is the daughter of Mr. James S. Douglas, a Louisiana planter, and was educated under private tutors, in a manner fitting a society leader and not a woman destined to assume duties requiring technical knowledge, concentration, courage and coolness in emergencies. But she cares nothing for society and thinks herself the happiest woman alive. To quote her own words: "Our lives have been that of two dear companions—partners, if you will, or comrades, rather. I know every detail of his business, because he makes me his confidante, and I know, too, just how much money we can afford to spend and when it is necessary to save. We have no children, so I tell Captain Leathers that the Natchez is my 'baby.' Such a dear, great, big baby."

Mrs. Leathers represented Louisiana as commissioner to the World's fair, being alternate to Miss Katherine Minor.

A Dainty Easter Gift.

The very pretty frame which the illustration shows is extremely simple and easy to make, and as it is entirely composed of Easter Lilies makes an ideal gift for that gladdest of all glad days. If you are at all expert with your brush and are accustomed to painting flowers, you will find no difficulties in your way and may be sure that you will meet with perfect success.

Select a circular cardboard frame and a sheet of pure white water color paper. Then cover the frame neatly with white crepe paper, and when that is done mark on the drawing paper two circles the exact size, one of the opening and one of the edge of the frame.

Within the space so formed paint a wreath of lilies like or similar to the one given and take care that you get all the color the leaves allow and all the lovely shading of the flowers as well as their perfect form.

When the painting is quite dry, lay it down upon a smooth board and fasten it securely in its place with four thumb tacks, one in each corner. Then take a very sharp knife and cut the paper on all the lines of the wreath.

Lift it up with great care and paste it neatly into the frame.

The breadth should be so arranged that petals of the lilies extend here and there over the line of the circle so as to avoid anything like a stiff line. Then when you insert your photograph the soft curves of the blossoms will curl about the face, and you will get the effect of a head peeping through the frame of lilies in place of such a hard line as one usually sees.

CLARE BUNCE.

TICKLED HIS PALATE.

A Kongo explorer was busy cleaning his weapons with vitriol. A negro chief sat by watching the process with eager curiosity, and while unobserved stretched forth his hand, snatched the bottle containing the corrosive liquid and swallowed its contents at a single gulp. Our explorer jumped up, expecting to see the fellow die in frightful agonies. But his sable majesty merely rubbed his stomach with evident satisfaction and said:

"What! You keep such nice things in your bag without offering them to your friend?"—Tit-Bits.
